

Bubble Splitter

In an underwaterworld your mission is to clean up all the moving bubbles that are bouncing underneath the water level. Your equipment: A shorable arrow , and your freeze ability. This is all you need to secure peace and safety under water. But be careful do not get hit by them...

- Navigate your player (left/right) in an underwaterworld with moving bubbles. But be careful dont get in contact with them or you lose one out of three life.
- Dodge and fire at them to split them in two
- Keep dividing the bubbles until they disappear. Extra: If the bubbles reached their smallest size, there is also the possibility, that they are leaving at the surface.
- Clean up all bubbles to reach the next level
- With the help of your freeze ability you are able to freeze the bubbles for a short amount of time. This is only possible if a freeze-plate is underneath you. After that, the freeze-plate will disappear. To earn new freeze-plates you have to complete a level without losing one life.
